

Congoleum Art Squares

The Sanitary, Low-priced Rugs for Every Room in the Home

Congoleum Art-Rugs are something quite new in floor coverings. You will find them wonderfully practical for your kitchen, pantry, bathroom and porch, and for the dining-room, sitting-room and bedroom.

Congoleum Art-Rugs are made in patterns of exceptional beauty and wonderful colorings. They have a stylish appearance of woven rugs with advantages which woven rugs do not possess.

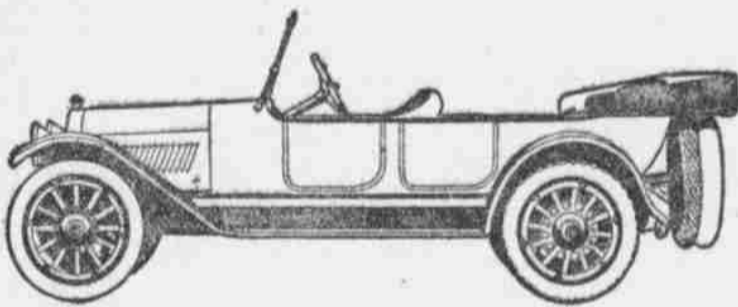

Look for the Congoleum Gold Seal on the back of the Rug you buy. It is a mark of genuine Congoleum.

We have Rugs made in the following sizes and at nationally advertised prices, as follows: A variety of patterns and colorings:

6 x 9 feet	$8.75
7 1/2 x 9 feet	10.60
9 x 10 1/2 feet	14.85
9 x 12 feet	17.00

Undertakers—The Best Ambulance Service

THE handsomest car on the road—and the best performer in its price class, too! Let us prove it.

Lots of people still think of the Oldsmobile as a high-priced car. That is natural.

The Oldsmobile Six is a medium-priced car—in spite of the fact that it looks and behaves like a high-priced car.

It is a light-weight car—a tire-saver and a gasoline-saver. Economical to buy—economical to operate and maintain.

Charles F. Dana of New York spent the day on business in this city yesterday.

The death of George Shores, a longtime resident of Barre Town, occurred at the City hospital Wednesday noon, after a lingering illness, covering a period of five years. Mr. Shores was a patient sufferer. The funeral was held this afternoon at 1 o'clock at East Barre.

James Moore of Stockbridge was before city court yesterday on a charge of intoxication. It was his first offense and he was fined $5 with costs, which he paid. He was in court again this morning on a subsequent offense but was held until this afternoon for disclosure and sentence.

Sergeant Lawrence W. Wilcox of Co. L, 310th Infantry, and a nephew of Mrs. F. D. Ladd, wrote the family from France Feb. 4 as follows: "Received your letter of Dec. 1 yesterday. We are having a little winter now; about two inches of snow fell a week ago. The ground is frozen now, which is much better than mud. We are still in the old chateau of 110 rooms and know just as much about when we will move as when I came here two months ago. Roy Sargent is quartered here. He is in Co. M. We are the only ones of the old home bunch. Corporal Cook is in the 3d platoon of this company, but is quartered in Montgomery with H company. That's a little village about three miles from here. Love is there in H company. We have good hours here. Reveille is at 6:30. We go out at 1; in at 3. Retreat is at 3 and 4, and supper at 4:15. Sometimes we are in bed at 7, and 9 at the latest. We are getting sleep enough and the cats will do. Will have to ask you to excuse mistakes, as I'm writing in the Co. L orderly room and the orderly is saving word behind me for all he is worth. Regards to all who inquire for me. Lawrence."

After they got done eating, they played on the organ and singing hymns for some time. Then Mrs. Hatchelder gave a recitation entitled, "I can't laugh, if I do I'll bust," and we all agreed with her. Then we all kissed Mrs. Cummings good by, and got started home. Guess Hatchelder hasn't got home yet.

Mrs. Charles Scott of Ayers street and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Holden of South Main street left yesterday noon for Boston to attend the automobile show, which is being held in that city.

George A. Burrill, formerly a representative of T. Noman and Sons company of Boston, a barber supply house, but who has recently been employed by the Wildroot company of Buffalo, N. Y., arrived in the city on business yesterday and intends to spend the remainder of the week here.

The annual announcement of students of highest achievement in Wellesley college contains the name of Miss Mavis C. Barnett, 20, of Needham, Mass. Miss Barnett, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnett, the former pastor for a number of years of the Barre Congregational church, had already been recognized as a scholar of notable ability before she left this city.

Word has been received from Mrs. Mary Pradd, formerly of Barre, now of Hartford, Conn., that her son, Private Harold Pradd, has arrived safely in the United States. He is now in a hospital in New York City, receiving treatment, but expects to be transferred soon to a hospital nearer his home. During his stay "over there," he was gassed and had his left leg broken. Mrs. Pradd left last Saturday for New York and spent a few days with him, finding him in good spirits and steadily improving in health.

This WAS a Carriage.

A genuine surprise was in store for Mrs. Earl Cummings last evening when about 20 of her country and city cousins and friends called on her to remind her that she had passed her sixtieth milestone, roads being so bad it was necessary for them to all "chip" and get Brother Earl Hatchelder's ox team, which made the party a little bit late, but arriving in good shape.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chapline were there, having arrived just a few minutes before, and much interest was centered around this couple, who have just recently been married.

One of the most conspicuous characters present, especially with the women, was St. Cuts. He favored the company with selections on his mouth-organ.

Numerous presents were given Mrs. Cummings at intervals during the evening, consisting of beautiful jewelry, cracked glass, etc.

After Mr. Cummings had passed around older to the men folks and spruce gum to the women, all kitched their partners and set down to the tables and played five thousand, until everybody got so durned hungry they had to quit.

The women folks had brot some Johnny cake and a few other things, and spread them out on the kitchen table and all eat all they could. Then Mrs. Cummings said that Gramp Phelps had made the most pints in the 5000 game so she gave him Half dozen eggs for first prize, said she could just as well as not, cause Earl's hens were doing fine now and layed most every day. Mrs. Chapline got a first prize too and that was some kind of a plate Mrs. Cummings said she had been kicking round the house long enough.

After they got done eating, they played on the organ and singing hymns for some time. Then Mrs. Hatchelder gave a recitation entitled, "I can't laugh, if I do I'll bust," and we all agreed with her. Then we all kissed Mrs. Cummings good by, and got started home. Guess Hatchelder hasn't got home yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther B. Johnson of Randolph came to Barre last evening to see Mrs. George E. C. Wheaton, who has been seriously ill. They went to Montpelier to-day to visit the legislature while on the return trip to their home.

The somewhat difficult feat of driving an automobile up the steps and into the lobby of Hotel Barre was accomplished last evening with comparative ease when an Oldsmobile roadster to be used for exhibition purposes during the Oldsmobile convention in Barre to-day was guided along boards placed over the granite steps, through a storm door and then through the main door onto the first floor of the hotel, where it now sits in a corner of the room. Inasmuch as the main floor of the structure is about six feet higher than the street, one can judge of the calculation which would have to be made to get the car into the building.
